THE INSTITUTE OF BANKERS PAKISTAN

"CBCI CERTIFICATION COURSE"

Internationally Certified Business
Continuity Training

Business Continuity is about building and improving resilience in your business, it's about identifying your key products and services and the most urgent activities that underpin them and then, once that 'analysis' is complete, it is about devising plans and strategies that will enable you to continue your business operations and enable you to recover quickly and effectively from any type of disruption; whatever its size or cause.

Effective BCM within any organisation depends on it becoming adept in the discipline while demonstrating evidence of due process. This normally involves training people to become competent in all technical and management aspects of BCM, running and improving a business continuity management system and having documentary evidence of all plans, processes and procedures.

Therefore, The Institute of Bankers Pakistan and The Business Continuity Institute jointly bring an internationally recognized training aimed at developing understanding of Business Continuity Management and its implementation.

THE INSTITUTE OF BANKERS PAKISTAN (IBP):

The Institute of Bankers Pakistan is an ISO 9001:2008 certified recognized institute dedicated to providing training services for banking industry in Pakistan to provide a sound human resource base for the financial sector through continuous learning, adaptation and application of knowledge.

We provide various other services including international accredited banking qualification e.g IBP Superior Qualification (ISQ), Assessment & Recruitment services, Research & Publications as well as we extend academic support to universities.

METHODOLOGY

This CBCI Certification Course is delivered via a blended learning method. It will be delivered using an Online Platform and conducted live by a BCI Approved Instructor. The course includes power point presentations, syndicate discussions, workshops and case studies. It lasts for 3 days.

The CBCI Certification Course teaches people the what, why, how and when of Business Continuity. It is the most respected and universally acclaimed BCM preparation course in the world, today. It is a course which not only prepares people for doing BCM (e.g. departmental coordinators and BC manager) but also explores the relationship with Risk and Crisis Management and how these disciplines are connected.

BCI APPROVED INSTRUCTOR

Mr. Paul Breed

MSc – Business Continuity
MBCI – Member of the Business Continuity Institute
CBCI – Certificate in Business Continuity
FSyP – Fellow of the Security Institute
CSyP – Chartered Security Professional
DBCI – CBCI - University Course Leader – Bucks New University

Paul Breed is a retired UK Police Superintendent with over 26 years service. He has a broad depth of crisis leadership experience; the majority of his service was spent within Specialist Operations where he was able to develop his skills as an operational, tactical and strategic commander and apply Business Continuity to several private and public sector organisations.

His passion for crisis management saw him complete a Masters Degree in Business Continuity, Security and Emergency Management. This led to him becoming an approved trainer with the globally recognized Business Continuity Institute (BCI) and speaking at international venues including the BCI World Conference in London and the World Conference on Disaster Management in Toronto and Emergency Management in Vancouver and Victoria.

His experience has seen him work in Europe, Middle East and Canada with particular interest in crisis management during catastrophic events with an overall aim to make individuals, organizations and communities more resilient to withstand such an incident.

For several years he has undertaken a consultancy role as the Business Continuity Lead and subsequent Head of Resilience for a large NHS Regional Trust, in addition to being the Business Continuity Advisor for the Ministry of Advanced Education and Ministry of Health for British Columbia Government in Canada, whilst further advising large corporate organisations on how to implement modern business continuity practices.

He is currently a University lecturer and course leader for the Diploma in Business Continuity and Certificate in Business Continuity.

His skills go beyond Crisis Leadership and Business Continuity, which also include being a Chartered Security Professional (CSyP) and a Fellow of the Security Institute (FSyI).
